Develop 3D thinking & Creativity

Introducing Modular™ Construction Toys - a revolutionary new modular approach to construction toys.

Modular™ Construction Toys takes a new and unique approach to construction toys allowing true three-dimensional, fully modular construction of race tracks, highways and districts while developing abstract thinking, three-dimensional perception, and creativity. All kits are totally inter-compatible.

Unlike conventional construction sets, Modular™ Construction Toys allows the building parts to be stacked vertically without limit, constructing complex bridges, interchanges, and more. Multiple variations guarantees hours of fun!

Let your little one's imagination run wild!

Modular Race Track is suitable for children from 5 years and up.

Introducing Modular™ Construction Toys - a revolutionary new modular approach to construction toys.

Modular™ Construction Toys takes a new and unique approach to construction toys allowing true three-dimensional, fully modular construction of race tracks, highways and districts while developing abstract thinking, three-dimensional perception, and creativity. All kits are totally inter-compatible.

Unlike conventional construction sets, Modular™ Construction Toys allows the building parts to be stacked vertically without limit, constructing complex bridges, interchanges, and more.

Multiple variations guarantees hours of fun! Let your little one's imagination run wild.

Modular™ Construction Toys specializes in the design and production of three dimensional construction toys and accessories. The concept is based on a patented new and innovative modular system that enables multiple variations of construction developing 3D perception, planning, creativity and abstract thinking.

All products are tested to meet all major international safety standards such as En 71 and ASTM including the new HR04040 regulations.

All production is carried out in our own in-house ISO-9007/2000 certified production facility located in Kiryat Melachi, Israel.

Modular™ Construction Toys is committed to exceptional quality of its products and complete customer satisfaction.
